THRIVING & SAFE COMMUNITIES

Unlike traditional grantmaking trusts and foundations, we develop lasting partnerships with individuals, families, businesses, public bodies and trusts. We work together to ensure that areas of acute need in Suffolk are addressed compassionately, respectfully and sustainably. We are committed to deepening levels of engagement in everyone who seeks to change lives and improve futures.

We are one of a national family of 46 Community Foundations in the UK. As one of the top five grantmakers in the UK, our combined power and shared passion to make a difference is increasingly influential at the most senior levels and is delivering real and meaningful change.

Our vision is to help make Suffolk a better place for all.

Our mission is to change local lives by connecting causes that matter with people who care.

Our values are to be:

- Compassionate and fair in our purpose
- Professional and independent in all our relationships
- Open and clear in our communications

Our priority is to reach those in most need by combining robust evidence with local service delivery.

CHAIRMAN AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE'S REPORT

We have great pleasure in presenting the Trustees' Annual Report and Financial Statements for the year ended 30 June 2018.

The Foundation has had a very successful and progressive year awarding 705 grants totalling over £2.6 million. These grants support organisations helping people from every walk of life right across our county and reaching into every corner. Through our grantmaking, we are acutely aware how every one of us may, at some stage in our life, need the support of a charity for a loved one or for ourselves. It is commonplace for the Foundation team to witness someone's life turned upside down through illness, bereavement or one of the many other challenges that we may all face during our lifetime.

It will equally come as no surprise, that the demand on local charities is growing considerably. A rapidly ageing population, increasingly pressurised lives and public service cuts are some of the factors that are contributing to create a perfect storm. The need for local giving to support our local charities and community groups has never been greater. They are all playing their part, improving lives and making our communities better places to live in - but they do need our help.

You will see in our annual review that the Foundation's work was presented to HRH Prince Edward, The Earl of Wessex, during the summer. We had the pleasure of bringing together some of our frontline charities who work with young people for the Prince to hear first-hand about the challenges that many of our young people face and critically, how local charities are helping them turn their lives around. The day was a memorable one for all but especially for the young people who met with Prince Edward and talked about their lives.

Increasingly, the Foundation identifies emerging local social issues through its grantmaking activities. By bringing together public, private and voluntary sectors and joining forces, we are more able to tackle these issues effectively. It is so encouraging and beneficial to our communities, that this joined-up approach continues to influence the planning and delivery of our services. Again, you will find examples of this approach throughout the pages of this review.

However, none of this would be possible without the extraordinary team effort by a dedicated group of people, all striving to make Suffolk a better place for us all. We would therefore like to thank our donors, funding partners, patrons, trustees, staff and volunteers for their commitment to helping others. We would also like to acknowledge and thank The Very Reverend Dr Frances Ward and Nigel Smith for their total dedication and service to the Foundation during their time as trustees.

EXPLORE OUR NEW WEBSITE

We're so pleased to announce the launch of Suffolk Community Foundation's brand new website, which brings all of our storytelling work together in one easy to navigate online platform.

We would like to thank our communications team for all their hard work in producing an engaging and insightful information hub. The aim is to inform many more people about the needs in our county and showcase the fantastic work that goes on locally to address that need.

Of course, charities and community groups need financial support to keep their projects sustainable and moving forward. Currently almost 80% of the money people donate is directed towards only the top 3% of our largest national charities. Therefore, this website has also been created to bring a variety of stories about local giving to life. We hope to inspire many more Suffolk people to give towards projects that address local need.

Breaking our work down into five main sections, we have ensured each area is bursting with relevant and insightful information that can be accessed in the easiest way.

We hope you will become a regular visitor, financial supporter, contributor and communications ambassador for our work.

Throughout this document you will notice QR codes. Use your phone or tablet camera to scan over the box and you will be taken to the relevant page on our website where you can find out more. Alternatively take a look at the whole site at:

ABOUT

If you're discovering us for the first time, the ABOUT section gives a clear overview into what we do. Here we introduce Suffolk's Hidden Needs (the issues that are at the heart of our work) in much more depth, along with the ways we work in partnership with others. You can also take the opportunity to find out more about our team and there is a useful section where you can download an interesting selection of storytelling information and reports.

NEWS

Taking a tour through the NEWS section, you'll discover up to the minute stories – from topical issues currently in the public eye, to events we've attended and upcoming projects to look out for. Our Suffolk's Stories section highlights the amazing groups and charities we support, enhancing their fantastic work through imagery, video and words of encouragement from many of our existing supporters who may well be people you already know.

GIVE

Our GIVE section details all the ways in which you can donate and give something back to Suffolk. We explore some of our funds and look at the reasons why our existing supporters have already helped to gift over £20M to local charities and build endowment funds for Suffolk's future of over £14M. If you are considering ways in which you can help, we hope the sections outlining existing examples of philanthropy will inspire you to join us in 'Changing Local Lives'.

GRANTS

Over in our GRANTS section, you'll find everything you need to know about the simple processes involved in applying for a grant, the relevant guidelines, list of current grants available and the contact details of members of our team who will be delighted to help you. We have already funded over 2,000 local charities and community groups, but we would love to hear from you if your organisation would like to receive help from us.

PROFESSIONAL ADVISORS

Finally, using the words of many local PROFESSIONAL ADVISORS themselves, we explain the valuable relationships and trusted partnerships that are built between donor, advisor and the Foundation. Receiving high quality independent advice from a Solicitor, Tax Specialist, Financial Advisor or Will Writer is often the vital ingredient that is needed to maximise the efficiencies, impact and intention of philanthropy.

COMMUNITY GRANTMAKING

We would like to thank all our donors and fundholders for supporting us to deliver the highest ever levels of grantmaking in 2017/18. Together we distributed 705 grants totalling over £2.6M to charities and community groups right across Suffolk. A wonderful achievement.

As you read through our Annual Report you can see details of all grant making activity interspersed with a cross section of partnership projects that are changing local lives.

A CO-OPERATIVE APPROACH TO TACKLING LONELINESS

With values and principles which include self help, democracy, concern for community and education, it is perhaps unsurprising that East of England Co-operative Society have been key partners of Suffolk Community Foundation since its inception.

Working with us in a variety of ways, their support includes partnering with us on the Surviving Winter Appeal, the long term sponsorship of Suffolk's prestigious High Sheriff Awards, which is now also hosted at their HQ at Wherstead Park, and key sponsorship of other Suffolk Community Foundation events including The Royal Ballet's Gary Avis & Friends.

Most recently we worked together to create a grants programme designed to tackle isolation. With a donation from the members charity committee of £25,000, the Foundation identified local groups to receive awards of up to £2,500 that could benefit from funding to tackle the issue of isolation.

“Our partnership with Suffolk Community Foundation is extremely important, it has provided us with the opportunity to support important initiatives and events that are central to addressing need in the county. It has also supported us to provide funding at grassroots level to some of the incredible organisations that make Suffolk so special.”

A ROYAL VISIT

HRH Prince Edward, Earl of Wessex, joined Suffolk Community Foundation for a special celebration of local young people.

On Friday 11 May, we welcomed HRH The Earl of Wessex to Suffolk.

Representatives and young people from six Suffolk charities met with HRH along with an impressive guest list of representatives from the public sector, business, private philanthropists and many experts who are passionate about supporting young people.

“We were so grateful to our old friends, the team at Birketts Solicitors who stepped up so brilliantly to host this event as part of the official opening of their prestigious new HQ in Ipswich” said Tim Holder, our Head of Public Affairs. “Having this kind of support helped us turn an already wonderful event into something really magnificent for Suffolk young people.”

Youth volunteering in Suffolk has struggled to rise above half the national average in recent years compounded by particularly poor levels of aspiration.

The Earl of Wessex has a special interest in young people and, as well as Founder of the Wessex Youth Trust, since 2015, he has been Chairman of the Trustees of the Duke of Edinburgh’s International Award Foundation.

The visit provided an opportunity for the Earl of Wessex to learn about the work of 4YP, Ipswich Community Media, the Porch Project, Inspire Suffolk, the Bangladeshi Support Centre and Access Community Trust. It also allowed some of our funders who have helped to access over £161,000 of match funding from The Cabinet Office to learn more about the projects they had supported to boost Youth Social Action across the county. 66 projects have been supported by them with over £287,000 awarded in grants. Groups funded included Spinning Wheel Theatre, Musica, Volunteering Matters, Suffolk Family Carers, Woolverstone Project, Access Community Trust, REACH Community Projects, ActivLives and Ipswich Community Media.

During the event, HRH was also introduced to the Grants Team at Suffolk Community Foundation, as well as members of staff from Birketts who work in partnership to deliver a grants programme on behalf of the law firm.

“This was a wonderful opportunity to thank so many people who are already working together so brilliantly to solve the challenges faced by young people growing up here in Suffolk....and crucially to introduce an even wider audience to this important work and ask for their support.”

PROFESSIONAL ADVISORS

Suffolk has benefitted enormously through its partnership with professional advisors. They are so often the link between their client's ambitions to make a difference in their local community, and the reality of how this can be achieved.

Judy Dow, Head of Philanthropy

Whether a client is looking to establish a named family fund through a lifetime donation, a legacy in their will, or wishes to reduce the administrative burden of an existing trust, we can work together to find the best solution, ultimately helping to achieve charitable goals in a tax efficient, professional way.

Many of the heart-warming stories you will discover have been made possible due to the excellent independent advice that professional advisors have given.

If we can help in any way, please contact:

"During discussions, a client may express their wish for the community where they live to benefit from a legacy they are planning to leave. Suffolk Community Foundation provides a sustainable structure for those funds to continue to grow whilst at the same time honouring their intentions and always remaining relevant to the needs of future generations."

Jonathan Mathers, Partner at Greene & Greene

"As part of the Revitalising Trusts Programme set-up by the Charity Commission and Community Foundations, and supported by the Office of Civil Society, I work with Suffolk Community Foundation to honour and re-energise the original aims of dormant or ineffective charitable trusts, confident that these funds will continue to support their local communities now and long into the future."

Toni Shaw, Trust Transfer Associate to UK Community Foundations

"Many of the businesses and individuals we work with recognise the changes that can be achieved by the Foundation and want to support the work in a tax efficient way. This can be through Corporate Tax reliefs on Company Donations, Income Tax relief provided for personal gifts and Inheritance Tax Exemptions when assets are left to the Foundation in a will. These tax incentives can have a dramatic impact on the funds received by the Foundation and used to improve lives in our community."

Sue Gull, Corporate Services Partner, Scrutton Bland

#STAY SAFE ONLINE

More than 10,000 young people are set to benefit from Suffolk's #StaySafeOnline campaign – but more financial support is needed.

National research shows that online abuse, stalking and sexting are much more common place than we might imagine in the lives of Suffolk young people.

Young people live in an online world and parents need to understand that these threats could easily already be crossing the virtual threshold of their own family life. As much as a parent's natural instinct is to protect their children, it is essential that young people are given the information they need to recognise the dangers for themselves.

The Suffolk Police and Crime Commissioner, Tim Passmore, agreed to back Suffolk's #StaySafeOnline campaign and provided funding to support local projects. Tim Passmore explained:

"We provided the initial grant of £100,000. The really pleasing thing that with the eleven projects in this scheme we believe we will reach over 10,000 young people, and that can be multiplied many times over by the parents and foster carers who are also getting involved."

Suffolk Constabulary, Suffolk County Council, Suffolk Community Foundation, the University of Suffolk and the East Anglian Daily Times came together to support the project, and charities and community groups who work with young people were invited to apply for grants of up to £10,000.

Eleven projects were given grants in February 2018, after submitting their ideas.

"The level and diversity of the applications was very encouraging," said Andrea Pittock, the Head of Grant Programmes for Suffolk Community Foundation. "We have schools training young ambassadors, to specialist trainers being brought in and training existing staff. There's a fantastic mix of projects tackling the issue of staying safe online in a variety of ways."

Representatives of the successful bids then attended the University of Suffolk's Blurring Boundaries conference.

Six months later, what has happened with some of the projects selected?

Access Community Trust in Lowestoft received their grant for a theatre project to address issues such as online bullying, stalking and sexting. They have been working with the theatre group, The Escapades and with young people from the project, Minding the Gap.

"It's an interactive play and the audience will guide where the play will go. The scenes will change depending upon what they say, and there will also be workshops. We are keen to hear from other interested headteachers," said Lee Johnson, Access Community Trust.

The Bangladeshi Support Centre in Ipswich are running information sessions for parents and children and both, that have already been held, proved popular.

Mohammed Mainul Alam, the Joint Centre Manager, explained, "Parents thought their children were doing their homework online in their bedrooms, but discovered they had other windows open too. What really works well is having joint sessions with parents and their children learning together."

St Mary's CEVAP School in Woodbridge used their grant to run a Stay Safe Online Programme, working with ChildNet.

"Ten children from Years 4 and 5 successfully completed an application process to become the school's digital leaders, presenting information to their peers, parents and staff through blogs, posters and workshops," said Kate Hayward-Brackenbury, teacher and computer lead.

“It is important that primary school-aged children especially, know what the threats are, and about online etiquette, so they make the right choices online.”

Tim Passmore

At Level Two in Felixstowe, the chosen staff have been trained and they will educate young people, parents, grandparents and carers in e-safety.

“We know that children already have a vast amount of knowledge and awareness of how the internet and social media work - the positives, challenges and issues it can cause,” said Shez Hopkins, Project Manager.

“Many are aware of the potential dangers, but still choose not to always keep themselves safe online. Much of our time will be spent delivering workshops, offering early interventions and exposing real life case studies for children and parents to show how online activities can quickly spiral out of control.”

Ipswich Community Media have appointed an “online czar”, Alicia Durbin.

“We are all playing catch-up. Anyone over the age of thirteen really doesn't understand the issues!”, said Alicia.

“We are developing lesson plans for 150 youngsters who come to us each week for music, radio and filming, and for their parents too.”

Suffolk Refugee Support needed to adapt their materials so they could be applied to their unique local circumstances.

The newly appointed Hidden Harms Officer, Michelle Francis, explains,

“The eyes of the refugees and asylum seekers often widen when we talk about the dangers online. As there are always problems around the different levels of language ability, I will be working with parents and children together.”

“Increasingly we are seeing private and business philanthropy joining forces with the public and voluntary sector on projects that make a powerful difference in our communities. The #StaySafeOnline campaign is just starting to fly and has made a great start, but this a social problem that we need to continue to support. It would be amazing to see new financial supporter is coming forward to grow what this seed funding from our Police and Crime Commissioner has started. Suffolk Community Foundation would be delighted to hear from anyone interested in stepping up to the plate on this.”

THE HIGH SHERIFF SUFFOLK DAY ROAD TRIP

Having been a founding partner in the creation of the first Suffolk Day in 2017, the Foundation invited Suffolk's High Sheriff, George Vestey to lead a second storytelling road trip across Suffolk.

Joined by a camera crew, journalist and photographer - 'The Suffolk Day Roadtrip' travelled to all of BBC Radio Suffolk's outside broadcasts on the day, including Sudbury, Ipswich, Ickworth House, Stowmarket and then back to Ipswich.

The roadtrip's purpose was to celebrate the kindness of Suffolk people. Raising awareness and support for need in our county was high on the agenda, as was saying thank you to the voluntary sector and the tens of thousands of volunteers who change local lives every day.

The team told the stories of a broad selection of incredible charities during the trip, with the wonderful support of BBC Suffolk Presenters Mark Murphy, James Hazell, Lesley Dolphin, Stephen Foster and Jon Wright. Editor Brad Jones and the team at the East Anglian Daily Times generously provided extensive coverage on the day. They then followed this up with six features which further raised the profile of need and the work of the participating charities.

We would very much like to recognise the genuine enthusiasm and support that Geoffrey Probert brought to helping us launch this initiative on the first Suffolk Day in 2017, and to George Vestey, Suffolk's current High Sheriff, who was an absolute pleasure to work with and brought exactly the right approach to everyone he met on the day. George describes the experience as "one of the most inspiring and enjoyable days I have ever had."

You can read more about our 'Suffolk Day Stories' and watch some of the films we've made about many other charities on our brand new website.

HIGH SHERIFF AWARDS 2019

The High Sheriff of Suffolk, George Vestey, has launched the 2019 High Sheriff's Awards and is calling for voluntary groups and individuals to submit their entries for the annual community awards.

Suffolk Community Foundation's High Sheriff's Awards are designed to reward the volunteers, charities and community groups in Suffolk who devote their time and energy to improve the communities in which they live and work.

This year's categories are:

- Suffolk Volunteer of The Year Award (over 25's)
- Suffolk Inspiring Leader Award
- Suffolk Young Volunteer of the Year Award (up to 25's)
- Suffolk Voluntary Organisation of the Year Award – Rebuilding Broken Lives
- Suffolk Collaborative Partnership Award
- Suffolk Voluntary Organisation of the Year Award – Inspiring Young People
- Suffolk Strengthen Your Community Award
- Suffolk Voluntary Health Care Award
- Suffolk Emergency & Armed Services Volunteers Award

The deadline for nominations is 20th January 2019. Winners will receive a trophy and a cash contribution to their voluntary group.

This year nominations are now open on our website and the great news is that, for the first time, they will be accepted online.

Surviving Winter

Winter Fuel Payment Appeal

Each year, our Surviving Winter Appeal goes from strength to strength, and over the past few years we've heated thousands of homes and helped many vulnerable people right across Suffolk.

DON'T NEED IT? DONATE IT!

Often the simplest ideas are the best. Everyone in Suffolk over the age of 65 receives a non-means tested Winter Fuel Payment, whether they need it or not. We simply ask that if you don't need it you donate it to the Surviving Winter Appeal, so that it can be given to another older person in the county living in fuel poverty.

Whilst our partners at Citizen's Advice are speaking to people who need help, they will also ask questions that seek to improve their living conditions and general health and wellbeing and loneliness and isolation.

COULD OUR GRANTS TEAM HELP YOU GET THE FUNDING YOU NEED?

When it comes to grantmaking, our aim is to do all we can to find the best possible outcome – our funders and grants panels want to say ‘yes’ and the community groups and charities want to make a positive difference. It’s a powerful partnership.

The first thing, particularly for new community groups or charities, is to make sure they are fit for funding with charitable objectives and an appropriate governing document, two independent signatories for withdrawals and the relevant policies and governance in place. Sometimes this might feel like a major hurdle to overcome, but it pays dividends quickly and a brief phone call with Community Action Suffolk, or development officers from borough and district councils, can often provide an effective solution. Our grants officers are there at the end of the telephone to offer help and friendly advice and guidance. We aim to build really strong relationships with the groups we award grants to - we know that they are brilliant at what they do and it’s our job to help make sure that they continue to have the necessary financial support to continue their valuable work. Of course we have to operate within guidelines. Our funders want to know that their money is being well spent and that we are awarding grants to projects that address the needs highlighted within the Suffolk Hidden Needs Report. This report is such an important road map that should guide all key stakeholders interested in achieving the best possible outcomes for the people of Suffolk.

Once the application is made, it’s not simply a case of right or wrong. Andrea Pittock, Julie Rose, Hayley Trench, Tracey Fuller and Hollie Martin - Suffolk Community Foundation’s Grants Officers are easily contactable and ready to help with any questions and advice needed. Not every application is successful on the first attempt. Sometimes there isn’t the funding available or perhaps it’s only possible to award a proportion of the money requested. Our team gets satisfaction and pleasure from seeing what successful outcomes bring. We always keep trying to find the right solution.

SUBMIT APPLICATION

Application forms (except for Suffolk Disability Care Fund) can be completed online. Each fund has its own application form. To request a paper copy of the application form, please contact us on the number below.

APPLICATION ASSESSMENT

You will firstly receive an automated receipt of submission. Then all applications received are subject to a detailed assessment, during which time the organisation or group may be contacted by email or telephone or the assessor may wish to visit the applicant.

GRANT DECISION MADE

Once you have been awarded a grant, Suffolk Community Foundation will make the payment on receipt of the signed terms and conditions for grant awards which will be issued with the grant offer letter.

COMMITTEE APPROVAL

Unfortunately we are unable to fund every application but where possible we may be able to fund certain aspects of an application or draw money from a number of funds to fully meet a request. Please note there is no right of appeal on award decisions made.

SUFFOLK DOG DAY

There's life in Suffolk Dog Day yet as the county rallies to show its affection for the number one charity day in the canine calendar...

When Suffolk dog lovers 'The Woofers' were hit with the sad news that this year's Suffolk Dog Day was to be cancelled due to safety concerns relating to the extremely hot summer, the news travelled even faster than the wildfires that were breaking out across the Suffolk countryside. The story became headline news, with over 500,000 hits on social media and an outpouring of goodwill for a difficult decision made in the interests of both animal welfare and human safety.

Any event cancellation creates questions about future viability and the possibility that the event will not return in future years. Inevitably those questions have been raised about Suffolk Dog Day, but Dog Day Chair, Richard Cooper has been quick to say that Dog Day will return in 2019.

Richard said "We have been truly overwhelmed by the support we have received from the public, charities and our sponsors alike. Everyone genuinely understood the decision we had to make and have sought to help us secure the return of Suffolk Dog Day to Helmingham Hall on July 28th 2019. We are also currently finalising details for a 'Woofers Winter Walk' at the hall on Sunday 3rd March 2019 - for those who can't wait that long for another get together."

"We are delighted to commit our support for next year. It was obviously a very difficult situation, but we fully support the decision you made and we will be looking forward to working with you to make next year's Suffolk Dog Day a really great success."

Des Smith
Chief Executive

Suffolk Community Foundation's Head of Public Affairs Tim Holder says, "The safety and enjoyment of visitors to Suffolk Dog Day comes first whether on two legs or four - this has always been fundamental. We honestly didn't realise just how vocal people would be in support of this when the dreaded moment came to cancel. This support means so much to the team and all our dedicated volunteers, loyal sponsors, stallholders and supporters. We even raised over £1,000 from dog day visitors who donated their entrance money online."

That said, the £65,000 estimated profit from the day, 100% of which is donated to support Suffolk charities, was a serious loss for projects that badly need financial support, so the whole team will be working hard in the coming months and are asking for your support to ensure that Suffolk Dog Day 2019 is the best and most successful ever.

For further information about the 'Woofers Winter Walk', next year's event or to show your support by making a donation, please visit www.suffolkdogday.com

If you would like to volunteer or have proposals for sponsorship, please let us know by emailing Laura Ripman at laura.ripman@suffolkcf.org.uk

A BRAND NEW FOOD & DRINK FUND FOR SUFFOLK

Leaders from Suffolk's Food and Drink industry have lent their support to building a special food and drink themed fund that will be distributed to charities and community groups relating to nutritional deprivation.

The fund will support charities and voluntary and community groups throughout Suffolk through a small grants programme.

From foodbanks to lunch clubs and even meal deliveries for those not able to travel, there are many ways to support vital areas of food deprivation in Suffolk.

Industry leaders including Paddy Bishopp, Tim Rowan-Robinson, William Buchanan and Barry Chevallier Guild have lent their personal support to the Suffolk Community Foundation to build the fund.

“The Foundation’s recent Hidden Needs Report identified that over 83,000 people in Suffolk live at the most minimal standard provided by welfare benefits, many suffering from the effects of food deprivation.”

Judy Dow, Head of Philanthropy Suffolk Community Foundation

“The aim of the Food and Drink Fund is to support charitable activities addressing local needs particularly those where there is a direct link with food and drink.”

Paddy Bishopp Chair

The Food & Drink Fund has recently made its first round of grants to:

- ActivLives
- Greener Growth CIC
- Access Community Trust
- Stour Valley Vineyard Church
